KERSTIN WALTHER-FELLINGHAUER

CREATIVE DIRECTOR

WITH KIRCHHOFF SINCE

July 2006

SHORT CV

Kerstin Walther has been working as a designer at Kirchhoff for more than a decade. Her work focuses on the conception and creation of print, online and film projects. Her heart beats for interdisciplinary projects in which the analog and digital worlds cleverly intertwine.

„In her first life“, Kerstin Walther worked as a bank clerk at Deutsche Bank. She then studied communication design in Mainz and Melbourne and started her design career with stations at Studio Dumbar (Rotterdam), SIGN (Frankfurt am Main) and headquarter (Mainz). After her degree, she first worked in the cultural sector with a focus on branding - from typography to barrier-free wayfinding for the Dialogmuseum in Frankfurt am Main (ISAN Design & Standard Rad).

GOOD COMMUNICATION FOR ME IS ...

... sometimes even without words.
